

Artist of the Month—Nancy Jarvis

I moved to the Villages last August from Massachusetts. Much of my work is done on site in plein air and I also have been working on more abstract mixed media pieces. Since moving to the Villages I continue to paint out of doors, mostly in oil and look for subject matter in and around the Villages. Since I was a child, I have always been interested in art and was fortunate to attend art school and completed a BFA in painting from Boston University. My art journey was put on hold while I worked in healthcare. At the end of my work career I returned to painting after taking several workshops. This past September I participated in the Strada Easel Challenge which involved painting from life every date in September and posting the painting on the Strada website.
